

March 13, 2020

The NELC Leadership made the difficult decision to postpone the 2020 NELC Annual Conference due to the worldwide COVID-19 outbreak. As we communicated to you on March 4, 2020, the NELC leadership had been closely monitoring the U.S. CDC and WHO updates regarding COVID-19. We are aware of the numerous travel bans and advisories implemented by Government agencies, institutions and corporations, and it is evident that postponing the event is the wisest course of action. We expect to finalize a date in August or September within the next few days.

What Happens Next?

Registration: For all attendees who are currently registered, your registrations will automatically be registered for the rescheduled NELC Annual Conference in August or September --you don't need to do anything. Please expect an e-mail communication in the coming weeks which will provide you with more information. For questions or if your schedule prevents you from attending in August or September, please contact Vanessa Griffin at vgriffin@nelc-law.org.

Sponsors/Exhibitors: We will be contacting each of our sponsors and exhibitors individually to confirm the sponsorship details for the rescheduled conference in the coming weeks. For questions, please contact Lauren Barrett at lbarrett@nelc-law.org

The W has canceled all reservations made under the NELC room block.

Airlines: Please note that flight reservations must be canceled by the individual who booked the reservation. It is up to the individual airlines to waive any change fees or issue credits for airline tickets.

We thank you for your patience and I look forward to seeing you in August or September in Atlanta at the Conference. Meanwhile, stay safe!
